Dear Provost Whitten,

On behalf of the faculty of the curriculum committee of the College of Family and Consumer Sciences, I am pleased to forward the college's Experiential Learning Implementation Plan.

This plan has been developed and approved by our faculty through departmental faculty meetings and finally, through the College of Family and Consumer Sciences Curriculum Committee.

Sincerely,

Linda Kirk Fox, Ph.D.
Dean

College of Family and Consumer Science
Experiential Learning Implementation Plan

Certification Officer: Silvia Giraud, Associate Dean for Academic Programs

The College of Family and Consumer Sciences offers experiential learning opportunities in all departments. Students will learn about the offerings for experiential learning through the Student Success and Advising Center at the College during their first year to determine which experiences (internship, CURO; service-learning; study abroad or domestic field school; or non-credit research or study programs) they would like to take part in during their academic career.

Independent research through CURO will satisfy the requirement for Family and Consumer Science students, as will participation in UGA-approved study tours (domestic or abroad) or exchange programs. Directed Research, Directed Study, and Special Problems courses [under the number 3010 or 4960] are available in each department, and with prior approval of the Certification Officer may be used to satisfy the requirement.

The courses that fulfill the requirement in each department are as follows:
